publisher description

purapurawhetu is a story with many threads at its heart is the darkness of loss and grief woven around and throughout are other characters experience of loss and dispossession but it is ultimately a story of forgiveness and healing and of humour u out of turmoil comes the ability to move forward purapurawhetu when someone special dies their spirit joins the others in a wild tango across the night sky get on the waka is a fresh energetic collection of fiction writing by maori since 2000 selected and with an introduction by witi ihimaera it showcases 17 stories and extracts from established writers most of whom have won awards and recognition in new zealand and overseas this volume explores the multi faceted semantics of ecology in contemporary indigenous theater and performance it focuses on the ways in which indigenous playwrights from north america and oceania depict the human link with nature in today s global age the author describes her survival of an abusive relationship her mother s mid life sexual proclivities and the interference of friends and her father during a promising new romance challenges that prompted her visit to an atypical tarot card reader the columbia encyclopedia of modern drama covers the period from 1860 to the present the distinctive feature of this encyclopedia is the emphasis it places on the cultural context of dramatic works and their authors preface writing at the edge of the universe looks at new zealand literature at a time when it is thriving as never before for many years a marginal activity in a country where sheep and rugby concentrated the national vision writing is now generously supported by the government promoted with festivals and showered with awards writers are made national treasures their manuscripts acquired by libraries their lives made the subjects of biographies when our major writers die the whole nation mourns this book celebrates the maturity that places writing at the centre rather than the outskirts of national life and marks the coming of age of new zealand literature but it also examines and questions the contentious issues about the state of our writing the power of the creative writing programme the globalising influence of the publishing industry and international styles the directions of maori writing the place of nationalism in creative activity the importance of state funding it marks the broadening of the literary scene with examinations of children s writing and comics lively various contentious considered the essays in this book will deepen and extend the debates about our literary culture provide considered information for teachers students and writers and enrich the production of that literature alan p barr has brought together eleven world class modern plays by women that show not only their artistry but also their variety and their passion drawn from nine different countries other than the united states and england that use english as their literary language the plays reflect the concerns of women across the globe the imagery and dramatic conventions may shift and the tones vary but the need to be strong and its difficulty the sense of a world that is anything but nurturing or ideal and the suspect nature of family life and relations are constant themes the struggle over language in countries that are very often ex colonies conveys the frequent overlap between feminist and postcolonial focuses the diversity of englishes on stages from singapore to south africa is a lovely curtain call to this theater festival part oral history part biography this narrative follows helen s life and career from childhood through to the present day
